Nordvision in 2007

2007 was yet another superb year for the Nordvision partnership. The partnership generated a total of 1.848 of television amongst the five Nordvision broadcasters. This is 4.231 tv programmes altogether.

The Nordic drama group has enjoyed great rating success and volume with its productions. 440 hours of Nordic television drama emerged from the drama partnership in 2007. One of the most remarkable co-productions in 2007 was 'Forbrydelsen' ('The Killing'), which was nominated for the Emmy award in Best International Drama Series category. Other outstanding productions from this group in 2007 were 'Kodenavn Hunter', 'Leende Guldbruna Ögon', 'Gränsfall' and 'Golden Retriever'.

The other Nordvision programme groups also had a productive and active year, in particular in the fields of documentaries, children's programmes and educational programmes.

The Nordic news exchange set yet another record for the number of stories exchanged. During the year 1.237 stories were used out of a total 1.413 made available. This is the largest number of stories used in the history of the scheme.
